Abstract of FR2797813

The vehicle has a soft roof (7) covering the passenger compartment and sliding along curved rails at the top of the body sides (6) to stow at the rear of the vehicle when folded. It also has a folding rear panel with a window which is located above an opening tailgate (2) and is fixed in the deployed position by side bolts. When the roof and rear panel are folded they can be stowed beneath the floor of the vehicle behind the rear passenger seats or inside the tailgate.
